The Experience in the AltspaceVR Rooms

People using VR headsets will have hands that move.

Their heads will also move naturally.

People using the 2D app will have hands frozen at their sides.

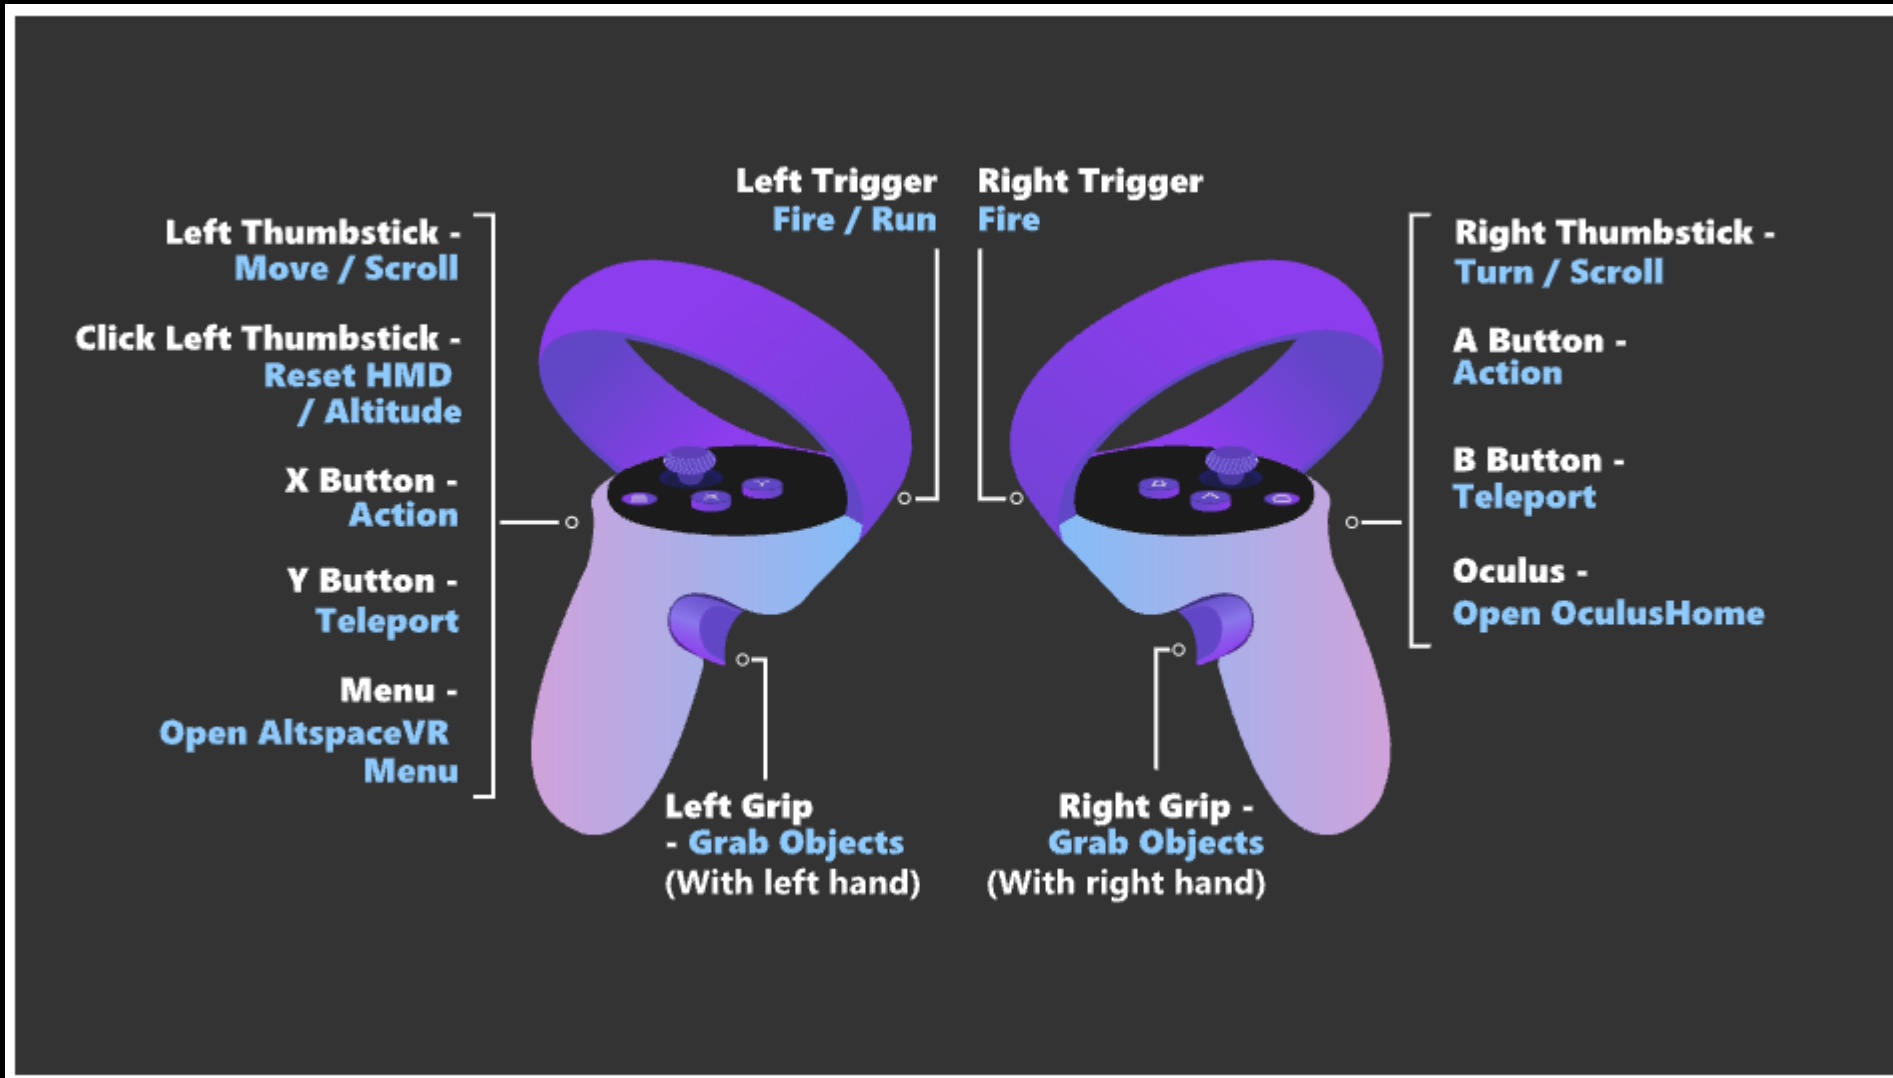

2D users can shake/nod their heads by moving their mouse when they are in "look" mode.

In-Room Audio Troubleshooting

- Red = muted, blinking when speaking = working, but check volume
- Make sure their Windows/Mac sound settings let them speak/hear
- For headsets, make sure permissions are approved for the use of the mic

If you hear an echo

- Echoes happen when your audio comes out of the mic of another person – usually when they aren't using a headset, but can also be when the mic is too hot
- Look for someone with a speech bubble and mouth moving who isn't actually talking
- Mute them and message them that you muted them because of the echo.
- Ask them to put on headphones/earbuds if they aren't using them
- Check their Settings\Audio and change the Audio Input filter

If audio is choppy

- Check network bandwidth
- Check system requirements
- Try re-entering event
 - Menu\Settings\General
 - Tip – 2D users press ESC to bring up menu

The Photo Booth Experience

- A Selfie is with the camera pointed at you, in avatar form
- A photo is with the camera pointed at whatever your avatar is looking at
- Encourage them to take their own Selfies so they can find them online in their own account

How to take a Selfie in all Events?

Check your position in the mirror

Press A and D to move left & right

Click Right for Menu

Selfie Button

Selfie Button

Tips: turn off personal space bubble or you'll stop seeing people who get too close
Use lines on the floor to help figure out the span of the camera
Use S key to move back, W to move forward
Move your avatar's head around to get the best camera angle
